Most of the small houses located along the north side of the 200 block of Churchill St. are two stories in height and two bays wide with shed roofs and late Victorian brick and metal cornices. They originally served as carriage houses for the houses to the rear facing on Montgomery St. but have since been remodeled as residences. An exception is the group of houses at 226-232 Churchill St., which are two story, gable-roofed houses typical of the type of small gable-roofed house built for a working class market in the 1850's and 1860's.

This pair of two story, two bay brick houses with gable roof and false front was built as carriage houses, and later converted to residences.

The houses are two stories in height, about 14' wide, and occupy lots about 50' deep. The houses are two rooms deep and have no rear additions. The houses are constructed in common bond. The gable roof is set perpendicular to Churchill St., with each house running back under one slope of the roof. The facade has a false front which rises above the peak of the gable to create the impression of a shed-roofed house. There are no extant roof chimneys.

At 216 Churchill St. the door and window openings have flat wood lintels and brick header sills. At 218 Churchill St., which has been recently renovated, the openings have segmentally arched brick lintels with solid wood tympanums. The sills are wood. At 216 Churchill St. the window openings are filled with 1/1 double hung sash; at 218 Churchill St. the first floor window is filled with a new 6/9 sash and the second floor windows are filled with new 6/6 sash. 216 Churchill St. has a late panel door with upper lights; 218 Churchill St. has a modern six panel door. Both doors are set beneath two-light transoms. The houses sit on low basements, the entrances being reached by two brick steps at 216 Churchill and two stone steps at 218 Churchill. Each house has a low rectangular basement opening located beneath the first floor window.
